Almost everybody who stands out in a crowd has some experiences with bullying, slandering or judging. But why? Because of different body shapes? Or because of loving the "wrong person" ? Everyone is exactly the same on the inside.

Tolerance or respect for ourselves and others is a necessary property for us all. Each of us should have the tolerance within ourselves to respect those around us. In our view, two people can't live together, work together, learn from each other and exist together without tolerance, because we are all different - we have a different body and mind... so we can't expect others to be the same as we are.

That's why the topic of tolerance is very important and when we speak about it (e.g. thanks to programme Erasmus Plus), more and more people can come to realise how necessary tolerance is for society and how it could positively influence everyone around them.

Skoro kazdy, kdo vycniva z davu, ma zkusenosti s sikanou, pomlouvanim ci odsuzovanim. Ale proc? Kvuli odlisnemu tvaru tela? Nebo kvuli lasce k nespravne osobe?

Tolerance, neboli vzajemne respektovani, je soucasti kazdeho z nas. Vsichni bychom ji meli mit uvnitr sebe. A kazdy jsme samozrejme jiny- mame odlisna tela, mysl,... takze od ostatnich nemuzeme predpokladat, aby byli stejni jako jsme my.

Proto si myslime, ze tolerance je velice nezbytna, a kdyz o ni budeme mluvit (napr. díky programu Erasmus Plus) vice a vice, lide si muzou uvedomit, jak moc je dulezita a jak pozitivne muze ovlivnovat kazdeho z nas.
